Community Connections

Howard County Library System proudly participates in a network of outdoor education venues that feature Monarch Waystations. The new Monarch Waystation Trail offers a fun, family-friendly way to discover the beauty of the butterflies, the benefits of native plants and the locations in our community where monarchs flourish.

Certified by Monarch Watch as official Monarch Waystations, nine organizations in Howard County feature habitats beneficial to butterflies, in both larval and adult stages.

At Howard County Library System, classes

educate students and families about the monarch life cycle, habitat, and current plight. Loss of habitat, increased use of herbicides, and climate change are all factors in a diminishing monarch population.

How to Save the Monarch

Every backyard can become a nurturing habitat for monarchs. Plant native milkweed and other nectar-rich plants to create and support healthy habitats for the monarchs.
